

WARM DAYS Suggests a Light-Weight Flannel Suit. It is the fashionable fabric this season, and we are showing large lines in all the new shades of grays, tans, blues and greens, in neat stripe effects. The garments we offer have hand-stitched and hand-worked collars, hand-padded shoulders, hand-worked buttonholes and silk-stitched throughout. This formation makes them cling close to the neck, set squarely on the shoulders and hang naturally and gracefully, back and front. Our prices always moderate. . . . $8 to $20

FORTUNE IN MONUMENTS.

Wealthy Pennsylvanian Fears Relatives Would Contest His Will.

Westchester, Pa., June 14.—In order to preclude the possibility of a contest over his will after he has died, the late John H. Taylor, a wealthy Pennsylvanian, has had his will placed in a safe in the vault of the Federal Reserve Bank in Philadelphia.

Mr. Taylor's will is to be used to use all his money in improving Lafayette Cemetery, on the heights of Brandywine Battlefield, a short distance from the spot where General Lafayette fell, wounded in battle. The bodies of Taylor's father, mother, sister, wife and child are buried there.

Quietly and without ceremony Mr. Taylor yesterday announced that he was married by Justice J. B. Greenleaf.

Doctor Kennel said that he had been engaged two years, and that the death of his bride's father a year ago made it necessary to postpone the wedding. He did not decide that yesterday should be the wedding day until Wednesday evening.

They took a regular motor car to the Clayton Hotel, where they were married by Justice J. B. Greenleaf.
